Let's just get it over. This case, from the outset, has been about those who are not inclined to compete. They are lazy, slovenly, and just plain whiners. They just think "it's not fair! They have more than I do and I want some. Guess I'll go to court for my share."

I for one say more power to Microsoft. It's called CAPITALISM! If you can't stand the heat, get out of the market-place. If you truly have a product that is worthwhile, people will buy it. Just get it out there.

Netscape used to be a good browser. As a matter of fact, I used to use it. Then AOL bought it and the only thing they seemed to be interested in was hemming me in to ONLY their content. I now use Internet Explorer. AOL ruined the internet. THEY are the ones who should be outlawed.

So, again, just end it. You have wasted enough of our TAXPAYER dollars on an issue the CONSUMER will settle with his DISPOSABLE INCOME!
